

Justin A. Welply

Justin Welply is in the firm's litigation group and concentrates his practice on a wide variety of business disputes, including contract, real estate, construction, and fiduciary/trust litigation. In addition to trial and litigation experience before federal and state courts, Justin has extensive experience with arbitration and equitable relief, including temporary and preliminary injunctions, writs and mandamus.

Justin counsels a wide range of businesses from corporations to family-owned businesses, as well as real estate, manufacturing, professional medical organizations, hospitality, and other industries. He is a trusted business partner for his clients who rely on his straightforward advice and judgment.

He joined Carmody MacDonald as a principal in 2022 and prior to that, was a partner at a large Midwest-based regional firm where he practiced commercial litigation.

Justin earned his J.D., Cum Laude, from Saint Louis University School of Law and obtained a B.A. in Economics from Bellarmine University in Louisville, Kentucky.
