

Kevin C. Staed

Associate

St. Louis, MO

314-854-8723 | kcs@carmodymacdonald.com

Education

- Saint Louis University
School of Law, J.D., 2017
 - Public Law
Review - Lead
Executive
Editor
- University of Missouri
- Columbia, B.S., 2013
 - Phi Alpha
Delta -
University of Missouri Law
Fraternity
 - Alpha Phi
Omega -
University of Missouri
Service
Fraternity

Kevin C. Staed is an attorney in the firm's corporate group. He focuses his practice on intellectual property law. Kevin has established himself as a trusted advisor and advocate focused on protecting clients' intellectual property assets with patents, trademarks and copyrights and advising clients on how to use their intellectual property assets to advance their business. Throughout his career, Kevin has represented a diverse range of clients, from startups to large corporations, across a wide range of industries. He is known for his ability to provide tailored legal solutions that align with clients' business objectives while navigating the complexities of intellectual property law.

Kevin earned his J.D. degree from Saint Louis University where he developed a strong foundation in intellectual property law and honed his skills in patent and trademark prosecution, intellectual property enforcement, and intellectual property licensing. Kevin's dedication to his clients is evident in his meticulous approach to every case, where he combines his legal knowledge with a strategic mindset to achieve favorable outcomes.

As a committed advocate for intellectual property rights, Kevin remains at the forefront of emerging trends and developments in patent and trademark law, ensuring that his clients receive the highest level of representation and protection for their valuable brands and trademarks. Kevin is admitted to practice in Missouri and the United States Patent and Trademark Office.

Practice Areas

- Business Transactions
- Intellectual Property

Professional & Community Involvement

- Bar Association of Metropolitan St. Louis (BAMSL)